WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—An invitation to President Harding was presented today by Representative Almon, of Alabama, on behalf of Florence chamber of commerce, to visit Florence and Muscle Shoals during his trip to Birmingham late in October.

The President indicated a desire to accept the invitation and make the visit. He discussed with Representative Almon the Muscle Shoals project.

"The President is well informed on Muscle Shoals project and intensely interested in its completion and operation," Almon stated. "He indicated that the administration has the whole subject under consideration and we could feel assured that it would be solved in a manner satisfactory to the people."

CAUSE OF ROW BETWEEN LOU AND GERALDINE IS MYSTERY

GERALDINE FARRAR

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—After reams of publicity, following Mrs. Geraldine Farrar-Tellegen's ejection of her husband's clothes from their apartment, and denial of home privileges to Lou Tellegen, actor, a cloud of silence has settled over the family troubles of the famous and temperamental operatic star, and no one professes to know what is at the bottom of the squabble.

There are indications that neither Tellegen nor Geraldine is over much pleased with the way things are going, as regards publicity. In that respect they are not alone, for James A. Stillman, multimillionaire ex-banker, who is reported to have had some disagreement with his wife, also found newspaper notoriety rather displeasing, if not to say, distasteful.

Anyhow, Geraldine has found it is one thing to lock one's husband out of the house, even when he has been paying his portion of the bills, and quite another to have it all written up by the papers.

Both Are Mum

Neither Lou nor Geraldine will gratify the ardent longing of some millions of readers to tell just what their fancies are all about.

The Stillmans were not so reticent. Geraldine is now up in the Adirondacks.

Not a word is being said by either the operatic singer or her actor-Spanish-French-Dutch-American husband about divorce.

BIG COTTON OFFICE
NAME IS CHANGED IN SEVERAL CITIES

The offices of the H. and L. M. Warten Cotton company in Huntsville, Albany and Memphis, Tenn., today became known as John L. Robinson and company, operated by John L. Robinson, formerly of the Warten firm.

The offices of the H. and L. M. Warten Cotton company in Athens and Florence will continue under the same name and will be operated by L. M. Warten. Announcement of the above changes were made, effective Monday, by the firm, which was one of the largest cotton concerns in the Tennessee valley.

Mr. Robinson has been connected with the Warten firm for many years and has a number of friends in the Twin Cities, where he made his headquarters last season.

CONDITIONS STICK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The American Relief Society has given instructions to Walter L. Brown, at Riga, that he shall not make concessions in the conditions which have been laid down for Russian relief, Secretary Hoover said today.

for the play, "Don Juan," in which Tellegen is to star, denied that jealousy on the part of Geraldine, because Lou was returning to the love-act role and embracing stage-sweethearts again, was the cause of the family squabble.

Mr. Tellegen has been busy all Summer rehearsing his part in "Don Juan," which is a heavy one," said Lawrence. "His part in the play is a very heavy one, you know—he makes ardent love to twelve women."

Makes Love to Dozen

"Mr. Tellegen has asked me to make a statement to the newspapers."

"Mr. Tellegen in May signed the contract to appear as the star in "Don Juan." We believed that there was no other man on the stage able to play the part—that of making love to twelve women at once. It is silly to say that Miss Farrar objected to this—his making love to so many women on the stage."

"As a matter of fact, Miss Farrar read the play, and Mr. Tellegen told us that she wanted to buy a share in it. She even went so far in the matter as to arrange the incidental music for the production."

"Mr. Tellegen feels very hurt at the statement that he had not paid his share of home expenses or contributed anything toward the support of the house."

Tellegen's secretary spent a whole day counting the neckties, socks, collars and suits of the matinee idol in a storage warehouse, where "Gerry" Farrar had sent them.

TROOPS GUARDING NEGRO ACCUSED OF MURDERING GIRL

BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 15.—Parts of four companies of state guardsmen left city at 11 o'clock this morning with Clyde Thomas, negro, for Centreville, where he will be arraigned for the murder of a 14-year-old girl last Tuesday near Randolph.

Action in sending the troops, who are in annual encampment at Anniston, to carry the negro to the place of the trial was a precautionary measure against a possible lynching owing to high feeling in Bibb county. Sheriffs Wood, of Bibb county and Hartsfield, of Jefferson county, carried the prisoner to the railroad station, where he was taken in charge by the troops which were made up of Companies A and B and parts of two machine gun companies, under the command of Col. W. E. Bare.

A speedy trial for Thomas under Judge Sam F. Hobbs has been arranged.

MANY ARRESTS

Six arrests were made by the sheriff's force during the week-end for alleged violations of the prohibition laws. Five were arrested on charges of gaming.

the Conference

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Encouraged by the presence here in November of the world's leading statesmen in conference, agitations are getting underway to have the meeting take up many of the world's ills.

One of the hardest tasks confronting the conference promoters, officials said today, is that of limiting the parley, to the purpose of limitation of armament and settlement of the problems of the far east and Pacific. Underway by official coldness opponents of the administration's policy toward settlement of the allied indebtedness are urging that the coming conference concern itself with this problem.

The three principal debtors of the United States will attend the conference and thus an excellent opportunity is afforded for reaching some sort of agreement, say those in favor of this move.

Great Britain owes, roughly, $4,000,000,000; France $3,000,000,000 and Italy $2,000,000,000.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—World trade debtors increased their obligations to American business concerns by $1,500,000,000 in the last fiscal year. The federal reserve board's official estimate today showed this tremendous buying of American goods on a credit basis had further swollen America's favorable trade balance against the world to $4,500,000,000. The debts represented by this unfunded balance are at present uncollectible because of the conditions of foreign finances.

The balance due on trade accounts is in addition to the more than $10,000,000,000 due the United States government in war loans. America's credit to the rest of the world, therefore today stands at $14,500,000,000.

FREIGHT CHARGES ORDERED LOWERED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., August 15.

—Effective September 1, railroads operating in Alabama must make a reduction ranging from forty-two per cent to more than fifty per cent in transportation charges on velvet beans and velvet bean products. The new rates will be effective on single line and double line hauls and will make effective practically the same transportation charges on velvet beans and velvet bean products as are charged for cotton seed meal, grain and grain products.

The commission's decision was reached after several months of discussion and efforts on the part of the railroads and shippers to reach an agreement. The new rates will apply on velvet beans and velvet bean products when shipped in bags, barrels or carloads and will apply to shipments of from one mile to 440 miles. Under the new rates the charge will be as follows: Twenty-five mile haul, ten cents per hundred pounds; fifty mile haul, twenty and one-half cents per hundred pounds; one hundred mile haul, seventeen and one-half cents per hundred pounds. These rates apply on single line hauls only, but the rates on more than single line hauls have been so reduced as to effectuate a saving of more than fifty per cent to shippers.

By making the decision effective September 1 the heavy movement of velvet beans and velvet bean products this fall will be handled under the decreased rates.

The Twin Cities, home of Lady Curzon, have added another celebrity to the growing list of former residents who now occupy prominent places in the world.

It became known today that Don Lourie, famous quarterback of the Princeton football team and holder of many athletic records, was born in West Albany, then New Decatur.

Mrs. Anna Lourie was visiting her mother, Mrs. Lucy B. Crocker, in West Albany, at the time of Don's birth. The facts regarding the hometown of the famous football star were revealed here today by H. B. Crocker, of Mobile, an uncle of the Princeton man, who is here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edmundson.

Young Lourie recently won the running broad jump championship in England and was rewarded with the gold medal in the international event. He now makes his home in Peru, Ill., and will graduate from Princeton this year.

Grantland Rice, one of the best known sport writers, recently declared Lourie probably will be the most famous football star in American this year. Alabamians will follow his career with added interest upon learning that he is a native of this state.

ANOTHER PLEADS FOR AID ON COTTON

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Increased circulation and government advances on the cotton crop to the extent of 25 cents a pound would aid in the marketing of the cotton crop and save a majority of cotton planters from bankruptcy and ruin, Martin Amorous, of Marietta, Ga., today told the joint commission investigating agricultural conditions. He said that many of the most prosperous planters had failed because of the failure to market last year's crop, and the smaller growers were bound by liens and mortgages to the country storekeepers. He said that the cost this year of making a cotton crop was around 40 cents a pound.

POWERFUL APPEAL DELIVERED SUNDAY
BY DR. STURDIVANT

"I call you; I demand of you to ask yourselves, on which side would it be if you were to fall today? In the name of God Himself; in the name of Christ; in the name of all that is high and Holy; in the name of your immortal souls, at the judgment day, would you pass to the right or left, it that day were to come now? Thus in a powerful appeal, did Rev. Dr. J. E. Sturdivant, bring his sermon of Sunday morning to a close. The speaker had been preaching on the "Justice" side of God's character.

The principal one of a number of scripture texts used was: "For we shall all appear before the judgment seat of Christ." 11 Cor. 5-10. Those who heard the sermon included many visitors from neighboring churches, besides the regular congregation. The large and well ventilated auditorium was well filled, and the hearers listened attentively. Preceding the sermon "Love Divine; All love Excelling," was sung as a duet by Mrs. R. M. McGlathery, and B. B. Pickens; Mrs. Pickens playing the accompaniment as she did also for the regular hymns, and for the solo by Mr. Pickens at the close entitled "Ashamed of Jesus."

Sets High Mark
Dr. Sturdivant set a high goal for Christian living, declaring in his closing prayer for "high lives, beautiful lives and love-directed lives." He said it was a terrible thing to have an outraged love, directed against one's soul; and quoted the old Methodist hymn: "Mercy knows the appointed bounds and turns to vengeance there!" In opening his sermon Dr. Sturdivant said: "You have read constant reports of suicides, and every intelligent mind asks, 'why?' 'I have said that the pulpit is partly to blame; for it has preached the loving side of God's nature too much, and not His stern unyielding justice. I am very sure of this, for I love to preach love and mercy rather than divine justice.'"

"I am very much afraid there will be many surprises at the judgment, and that some of us who occupy pulpits and hold prominent leadership in religious matters, will be among those who will wish to run away; and want the rocks and hills to fall upon us. People let us walk out of this house today, conscious that we must think in love, do right and live right."

Supporting Passages
The following passages of scripture were used to support the text used by Dr. Sturdivant: Eccl. 12:14 "For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil!" Acts: 27-31—"Because He has appointed a day, wherein He will judge the world in righteousness."

Heb. 9-27 "And it is appointed unto every man once to die; but after this the judgment." Romans 15-16 "For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ." Romans 14-12 "So then, every one of us shall give account of himself to God."

Dr. Sturdivant said many things that clearly supported the Bible canon.

With four more robberies reported over the week end, police of the Twin Cities today redoubled their efforts to find a trace of the three hold highwaymen who have held up eight local citizens since Friday.

In each of the cases the descriptions of the highwaymen tallies. They are described as "one long and two short," one of the negroes, the one using the gun, is declared to be of more than average height, while the two companions, the ones who search the pockets of their victims, are below the average height.

The method of approach of the trio is much the same in all of the cases. The three frequently travel together. Stalking their victims, they use the first dark stretch for the "stick up." The two smaller blacks actually pass the victim and the third then throws a gun on him. As the victim's hands go up, the smaller highwaymen return and go through his pockets.

Robberies Saturday night included hold-ups of Dr. L. J. Ramage, on Canal street, near the Wyker home. Dr. Ramage was relieved of a watch, pipe and some money. The robbery occurred about ten o'clock.

Following the Ramage robbery, the highwaymen apparently moved on toward Albany. S. A. Ligon, an employee of the Twin City Bread company, was robbed of all his cash on Moulton street, just beyond the Louisville and Nashville crossing.

A short time afterward Bert Walker was robbed near the bridge on Gordon Drive, just west of the scene of the Ligon hold-up.

Ed Wolfe was the last victim of the night; police believed. He was robbed about 11 o'clock near the Louisville and Nashville coal chute. He was relieved of several dollars and a watch. A watch was also taken from Mr. Walker.

Whether the highwaymen really are negroes or are white men wearing the masks of blackened faces was one of the questions puzzling police today. The officers were said to have a clue indicating that the highway men are white, but nothing was given out for publication. A negro arrested at Cornersville was released today on his own recognizance.

Mr. Ligon said: "It must have been about 10 o'clock that I was robbed. I know I had returned home from the show with my wife, we live in West Albany, about 9:40, and was going back to town. When I was about midway between Dry Creek and the Railroad, walking toward town on Moulton street, I noticed three negroes, two small ones, and a large one. It was light enough for me to see them well. I thought they were going to pass me and go on. The two little ones did, but just as the big one got along side suddenly he stepped in front of me, laid the point of his pistol on me and said hurriedly: 'stick 'em up! stick 'em up!' My arms did go up. Then the little negroes went through every pocket, getting all my money amounting to $8.00."

"As they felt for the last pocket, it had my cigarette case in it, and they were told so, but still they examined it, but left it with me. Then I was released and told 'beat it.' The highwaymen went into the corn patch back of the Rountree Lumber company office."

"I did all they told me," concluded Mr. Ligon.

THE FORCE OF NATURE ARE AT MUSCLE SHOALS; WILL WE USE THEM

Those who are first in responsibility as to the disposition of Muscle Shoals must face not only a human but a divine tribunal. They must become responsible in the next few days for using or refusing one of the greatest of all nature's forces, that can be converted to man's uses. Will the opportunity be accepted or rejected? With a little effort, the Shoals water power can be made to serve mankind, and the further development of man's dominion on the earth. And just so surely as man was told to get dominion over the earth, just so surely would it seem that a bounden duty rests on the legislators now at Washington to let some one who can, get busy and develop the great enterprise. As matters now stand, what has already been done, stands in the way of progress. The uncompleted Wilson dam, is blocking navigation; the idle Nitrate plants are an estimated loss cost of $50,000.00 a month to the government—money taken from the hard earned substance of the people at large. The people are awaiting the boon that will come to them when cheaper nitrates are available, will they be disappointed? The Nashville Tennessean has the following to say as to the possibilities of the Sheffield Nitrate plant:

Ammonium nitrate turned out at a cost of approximately $80 a ton at Nitrate Plant No. 2 has a nitrogen content two and a quarter times as great as the nitrogen content of Chilean nitrates, now quoted at $60 a ton at the port of entry.

Ammonium sulphate of 21 per cent nitrogen content can be produced for $50.58 a ton, compared to $110.00, the wholesale price quoted at the Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter in its 1920 yearbook.

Acid phosphate of 16 per cent nitrogen content may be manufactured at a cost of $6.65 a ton against $16.50, the average price prevailing in the wholesale market in Tennessee today, although the price has ranged as high as $30.00 in 1921.

Lime nitrogen of 21 per cent nitrogen content will cost $30.85 at the Sheffield plant, against $65.36 for the imported product.

If these figures are reliable, what a large chemical force will be released to help the farmers and therefore all the people, when the fertilizer so much needed, begins to be made at Muscle Shoals. Can the fact that Mr. Ford has said he will furnish farm fertilizer at only an 8% profit and keep his books open to all, hinder his or a similar offer from being accepted? Do the people now making fertilizer want to stifle competition to the extent of asking the refusal of Ford's or similar offers? Will the legislators refuse to use Nature's forces at Muscle Shoals at the behest of the trusts and combines?

The government is in need of more taxes; will it refuse a great wealth and tax producing enterprise such as Mr. Ford, and perhaps others wish to establish at Muscle Shoals? If cheap politics have become so valuable in the eyes of our legislators at that, they should be scourged from power, just as were the money changers from Solomon's temple! Can it be that selfish sectional prejudice will blind the eyes of our law makers? Certainly a country that united to defeat the Kaiser, will not be divided asunder by the Muscle Shoals issue. By accepting the offer of Ford, a losing proposition, is to be turned into a going money making concern.

It is said the great Roosevelt dam in the West brings in no federal revenue. Does any one begrudge the money spent on it? Will such flaws, as are said to have been picked in the Ford offer, be allowed to stand in the way of our legislators? Will minor legal difficulties be allowed to keep the friends of the shoals in the midst of the horrible night-mare they now experience? Will there be enough bigots, and selfish men in Congress and elsewhere, to kill the dream of the centuries? It would not seem so; but very recent history shows that some body destroyed other great dreams of progress that such men as Woodrow Wilson and Henry Ford happened to dream. The Wilson Dam will contain four times the cement that went into the Roosevelt Dam; it will contain three times as many cubic yards of material as does the famous Keokuk dam; it will harness about half as much water for navigation, and for electrical uses as flows along the "Great Father of Waters" itself. In spite of all this, will the Wilson dam fail of completion? If it does; if for any reason, legal difficulties or what not, shall be allowed to block the deal now about to go to Congress, it will be a sad day for honest business. If not given to Ford, let the powers of the Shoals be given to some individual or corporation that will operate them.

All are interfered with by loose talk, but there is no way to prevent the flow of conversation. The only thing to do, is: Try to be not guilty, when found so.

It would not matter so much that we see through a small opening, if a small mirror was not the end of our vision, reflecting back only ourselves and our own selfish interests.

One thing to be remembered about all the war activities, from the running of ocean liners, railroads and banks, to having eatless days, and buying liberty bonds—none of these things were done to promote health, to make money or to develop industry along normal lines—but to win the war and damn autocracy. But since the war is over lets not carry on in the hurried "slip shod" manner that was compulsory during the war.

It is always right and proper to turn the eyes away from the yesterdays of failure toward the tomorrows of potential success.

Perhaps, England and Ireland have decided on a divorce, but are delayed over the question of alimony.

When Harding meets with the disarmament crowd in November, doubtless the first thing to be decided will be that Woodrow Wilson was wrong about everything.

My dear Sir:

When I was first elected to Congress I learned that a soil survey and map of Morgan County had not been made, so I at once called on the United States Department of Agriculture and urged that this work be done in order that the farmers might be advised as to the nature of various types of soils so that they could be assisted in fitting crops and fertilizer best suited to the different soils.

I am pleased to be able to state that this work has been completed and that this survey and map is now available for distribution.

It includes brief historical and geographical sketches of Morgan county, together with statistics as to climate and farm conditions, and also contains much information of great value to the citizens of Morgan county, especially to the farmers.

The map shows the location of all towns, roads, churches and school houses in the county.

I shall be glad to send a copy of this publication to any one who may desire it and will write me.

Yours very truly, will be no mistakes; every one will receive exact justice!" In this connection, the preacher expressed the hope and belief that God's mercy would temper justice, and declared in-spite of his long service, exact justice was the last thing he wanted.

An Awful Day For the Sinner

"It will be an awful day for the sinner," declared the speaker. He said that God's creatures were given His gifts, and His precious time and that a strict account would be asked. "I need money; but I need time much worse, in which to do the things needed. Those who wasted time were condemned, and the parable of the talents was referred to, to show how God demands the full development of all our faculties.

"RED" SMITH AND STABLE OF MULES OPEN SERIES HERE AGAINST THE TWINS

Columbia Aggregation Will Play Three Contests on Local Lot

WEEK END DOUBLE BILL IS SPLIT TWO WAYS

Russellville Divides Bargain Matinee When Martin "Passes" Game Away

"Red" Smith brought his stable of Columbia Mules into town yesterday for six engagements with the Twins this week. The first will open at 4:15 o'clock here this afternoon when Shelton or Russell was scheduled to open for the locals. Sells, who was relieved in the first game of the double bill Saturday when he encountered a streak of wildness may go back to the mound.

The Russellville crowd pulled out Saturday night after performing an entire week here. The last of their stunts for the week was the division of a double bill with the Twins. The visitors copped the first 8 to 4 and dropped the second 8 to 7. Cooper tried the iron man act and fell down in the second game. After the Twins annexed 9 safeties off his delivery, Martin went to the hill and pitched well until the seventh when he lost control and passed McClain, forcing over the winning run.

The doubleheader was delayed an hour because of the rain earlier in the afternoon. At that, the field was sloppy when play was called. Carter contributed the fielding feature of the day, made a faced well beyond the foul line to get McLane's drive in the third inning of the second fray.

COTTON MARKET IS FAIRLY ACTIVE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, August 15.—The cotton market opened 8 to 12 points lower this morning.

Sentiment was unsettled by poor cables, reports of showers in the southwest and rather free selling by Liverpool and the South. The buying was mainly for the account of New Orleans, the trade and local room interests and after the opening, sustained the market at a little above initial levels.

History as She Is Wrote.

The following choice bits of information were gleaned from a history test in one of the lower grades of the Indianapolis schools:

"The downfall of Rome was caused by the lady that set Rome afire." This pupil was no doubt slightly confused as to the sex of the ruler who fiddled while Rome burned.

"The downfall was caused because the Romans began to drink tonics." "Franklin was the first man to feel electricity."

"Moses was the king of Britain."

"To help your city if anybody does wrong blame it on yourself."

"Columbus lived in the U. S. and sailed all around the world and found America."

Music "Howlers."

The following are some blunders written by some English schoolboys on examination in music papers: One boy, trying to explain the difference between f and ff wrote: "F means 40, therefore ff means 80." Another boy stated that he learned "five scales and one archipelago," obviously meaning arpeggio. Another, asked what he knew of Signor Foll (the opera "star" who died in 1890), wrote: "Signor Foll was interned in Italy and had low, chesty notes, but otherwise he was a man of good character." Other "howlers" were: "Contraalto is a low sort of music which only women sing" and "An interval in music is a period for refreshments."

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

MOTHERS MAKE MEN.

SAMUEL MATTHEWS VAUCLAIN, head of the Baldwin Locomotive Works in Philadelphia, has had wide experience in the selection as well as the handling of men.

He admits that he has a method, a secret, in making his selections.

HE FINDS OUT WHAT KIND OF A MOTHER A BOY HAS, and pays no attention to the father. In the course of a long business life he has made few exceptions to this rule.

This theory of Mr. Vauclain has a negative as well as a positive side. It explains not only why so many undistinguished fathers have distinguished sons, but also why so many fathers who are failures have sons who are successful.

There are two sides to the question. For one thing there is a tendency on the part of a boy to derive his predominant traits from his mother.

For another, the mother is obviously more instrumental than the father in creating the environment which plays a large part in the development of the sons.

In the average home the problem of providing a minimum of income—which is the duty of the father—is much less complicated than the problem of making both ends meet—which is the problem of the mother.

Long before statesmen ever dreamed of a budget system, that method was familiar to the women. In one generation after another they have had to pay their way with resources that did not increase in proportion as the families grew.

The carefulness, prudence and foresight that a woman displays in running her house naturally show themselves in the bringing up of her children. If she is incompetent and shiftless in one direction, she will be the same in the other.

The mother, as distinguished from the father, has played a leading part in the formative period of men of conspicuous genius who have lifted themselves "by their bootstraps" into places of great eminence.

The mothers of Abraham Lincoln and Napoleon Bonaparte supply the only available explanations of the rise to leadership of two men who are types of success, under the most difficult circumstances.

In each case a powerful, dominant character made possible the passage from a log cabin to the White House and from Corsica to the leading place in Europe and an imperial throne.

In our own time the supreme qualities of Marshal Foch are traceable to the powerful individuality of his mother.

From the dawn of history to the present day, in sacred and secular affairs, the influence of the mother has always been the greatest factor in the development of ability or genius. She has been the source of inspiration as she was the source of being.

Sometimes she has pulled the children, handicapped by the father's characteristics up to her own level. Sometimes she has pushed them above both herself and the father by an indomitable determination that neither poverty nor ill fortune of any kind should interfere with her ambitions.

Mr. Vauclain's plan of selection will serve its purpose in the great majority of instances. He is safe in concluding that if the boy had the right kind of a mother he can count on his being the right kind of a boy.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Grimes of Birmingham, a son, Aug. 14, 1921 at Benevolent Hospital.

Inconsistent.

It is one of the inconsistencies of man that he will make laws to protect the deer, surround the partridge with game regulations, compel the fisherman to respect the small fish, and yet allow the ruthless destruction of the pome in which these wild things live.—American Forestry Magazine.

Tons of Petals.

Italy's perfume manufacturers consume 1,800 tons of orange blossoms, 900 tons of roses, 150 tons of jasmine and violets and 15 tons of Jonquills annually.

WEEKS WEATHER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—For the South Atlantic and East Gulf states: Normal temperatures with generally fair weather will prevail during the week, but with widely scattered local thundershowers. There are no indications at this time of a disturbance in the West Indies.

English Cattle Importation.

The importation of horned cattle from Ireland and Scotland to England was prohibited by law in 1803, but later the law was repealed and the importations were very large, but not until 1842 did England receive importations of cattle from foreign countries, and until 1849 levied a considerable tax on each animal imported.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, August 15. — Mrs. Donald Carr Believes about as completely as anyone I know in woman's combining marriage and a career. Until she married Mr. Carr the other day, she was Blanche Shoemaker Wagstaff, New York's society poet. Every once in a while she made her verse sufficiently unconventional to give her circle the thrill of having a novel thinker in its midst, and the writing of verses has been a considerable part of her daily occupation. Is this second marriage going to make any difference in the importance of her versifying? My goodness, no! Her latest poetic effort was read by the officiating clergyman as a part of the wedding ceremony.

They welcomed the New York in down at Freeport, Long Island, the other night. It may not look just right on the calendar, but opportunity is more than any printed schedule and the celebration of the New York must quite an actors' colony and its members just let the holidays pile up in the file case, as it were, and take them out to be used whenever they can best get around to it. Christmas and New Year's day are particularly busy times with them and they can't stop and celebrate. So they decided three years ago to switch the seasons. In the summer time they have plenty of leisure, and July and August have been made over into December and January at Freeport, with all dates properly observed in accordance with that change, Santa Claus and all.

Plans are being formulated here for a national American Caruso Memorial Foundation, probably to take the form of a million-dollar fund to provide for training in voice culture for promising young American artists under the celebrated masters of Europe. The plan was formulated by the Order of the Sons of Italy, but admirers of the golden-voiced Caruso and, indeed, all music lovers are taking an interest in the proposal.

Mlle. Mistinguett, the French comedienne, is to be seen in New York. She has just sailed for home after a conference over here with New Wayburn, and early next spring she will return to head a new revue he is planning to put on at that time. Several French artists who have supported her in Paris are coming with her, and Jacques Charles, the French author who has written most of the things she has appeared in over there is working on the revue which is to introduce her to this side of the Atlantic.

Whether it has anything to do with the recent vogue of spiritualism and various forms of psychic investigation, I don't know; but the old-fashioned fall of wearing "charms" has sprung into sudden life here in New York. We see them everywhere. Tiny coins with cryptic designs are seen in several Fifth avenue shops, and in many places they are being made to order. Oh, yes, nearly all of them are "love charms", guaranteed to keep off harm and hold true. A fair sized order even for a charm, sometimes.

Six Lives Taken in Factory Fire

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 15.—A fresh outburst of flames occurred at the fire-swept plant of the Atlantic Refining company here this morning. Additional fire apparatus is being rushed to the spot. The loss already amounts to more than a million dollars. The special foam preparation used by the company in fighting oil fires proved partially effective. Six lives have been lost and 13 persons horribly injured so far.

The original blaze is believed to have been caused by the backfire of a motorcycle.

Rev. Wilks Returns From Cleveland

Dr. W. P. Wilks has returned from Cleveland, Ala., where he conducted a successful revival during the past week. Ten new members were added to the Baptist Church and a number of other conversions reported.

One fine young man volunteered for the ministry and another for Foreign Mission work.

Dr. Wilks will assist in the meeting of the Baptist Church at Flint this week, but expects to be at home for the morning service at Central Church next Sunday.

Injured Engineer Much Improved

P. S. Grizzard, of Montgomery, who was recently injured while jumping from his locomotive at Pomerton, is steadily getting better. He has many friends who will be glad to know of his improvement. Mr. Grizzard is son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Grizzard of this county.

PRESIDENT DECLINES

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—President Harding today finally declined an invitation to open the press congress of the world at Honolulu in October. He informed Herbert L. Bridgman, of Brooklyn, and Frank P. Glass, of Birmingham, Ala., officials of the A. N. P. A., who extended the invitation, that the press of public business would prevent him from attending.

Patterson to Visit North Alabama

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., August 15.—A. G. Patterson, president of the state public service commission, today announced that he will go into north Alabama next week and visit the various counties in compliance with the law which requires one member of the commission to visit each county at least one time each year for the purpose of receiving complaints. Mr. Patterson will be out of Montgomery practically all of the week.

S. P. Gaillard, associate commissioner, was visiting counties in South Alabama all of this week, while B. H. Cooper, the other associate commissioner, is arranging his itinerary. Before the end of the year every county will have been visited.

ST. MARY'S FLOUR 35% "SHORT" PATENT

In the A. Z. Bailey advertisement of St. Mary's Flour in the Daily on Saturday, the type was made to read "35% shorts patent" when same should have been 35% short patent, addition of the letter "s" being misleading.

The A. Z. Bailey Grocery Company is meeting with splendid success as distributors of St. Mary's, which is claimed to be the highest patent flour milled.

The Daily is glad to make this correct on in justice to the A. Z. Bailey Grocery Company.

Soviet Officers Reported Shot

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 15.—General Klembovsk and General Guter, members of General Brusiloff's war council in Soviet Russia, and 46 other army officers, together with the wives of several, have been shot according to a Reuther dispatch today.

Probation Officers for Counties Urged by Two State Organizations

Cooperation of all boards of revenue and county boards of education of Alabama in the employment of attendance-probation officers and the cooperation of all persons interested in the youth of the state in putting the provisions of the compulsory attendance law and child welfare law into effective was urged in a joint letter issued today by Dr. John V. Abernethy, state superintendent of education, and Mrs. L. B. Bush, director of the child welfare department, and sent to all county and city superintendents, all county and city boards of education and all county boards of revenue and courts of county commissioners. The plea backed by a personal representative of the department who is in Morgan county.

Provision for the cooperation of the two departments is made in the school code of 1919 and the letter urged "all the boards mentioned to cooperate in the employment of attendance-probation officers". The boards also were requested to employ only specially trained or experienced persons where practicable. The department of education and child welfare department promised to send workers to discuss the problems when requested to do so.

Agents of the child welfare department have just completed investigations in certain counties of north Alabama and Mrs. Bush today reported that conditions in some counties were acute and called for immediate action. She said relief cannot come until the various counties are organized for effective work and that this will be the chief duty of the department until an organization is perfected for the various counties. She said there is not a county in Alabama which is now doing the work as it should be done.
